SEVERAL NEVADA MECCAS.

Reno hemoans the approaching departure of the divorce community. The principal city of Nevada has some active newspaper correspondents and the seekers for matrimonial disruption deplore publicity. So they are going to Las Vegas, down on the desert, the county seat of the new county of Clark, where there are no papers and no reporters. It ought to be easy to have a hot time at Las Vegas without getting found out, for the thermometer there reaches 125 degrees in the summer without an effort.—Sacramento Union.

Can it be possible that Sacramento is jealous of the fair divorcees who congregate in Reno? We should sincerely hope not and would add that if the records of the Sacramento courts were investigated, they would show more divorces granted during the past year than were secured in the whole state of Nevada.

We would also state that Reno is not the only town in the state where the broken hearts are mended, for in both Tonopah and Goldfield, a few divorces have been handed down by the courts. Of course, Las Vegas will get in the game when the officials of that section become familiar with the ropes, but that requires a little time. As to the lack of reporters and papers in that section, we will state for the benefit of the Sacramento Union that Las Vegas is blessed with two weekly news sheets.

Tonopah is sure defying Fate. Without going into details it is enough to state that some of the push down there have had the nerve to pull off a baby show.—Bodie Miner.

If Bodie was blessed with the number of pretty little tots that this city boasts of, we would not blame them for trying to pull off a baby show, but as it happens, the California town should not be jealous of the fact that the climate of Tonopah is considered the greatest in the west when it comes to raising kids.

NOW OVER 100 CHILDREN IN THE ORPHAN'S HOME

Joe Josephs has 101 children at the Orphan's Home, from nearly every county in the state.

Out of the total number, 78 attend school daily, the others being too small to do so. None are ill and there has been no serious illness in the home for over a year.

The children are classified by counties as follows: Washoe county, 39; Ormsby, 17; Storey, 16; Elko, 2; Nye, 7; Douglas, 3; Esmeralda, 4; Eureka, 3; Lincoln, 1; Lyon, 4; White Pine, 2 and Lander 3.

There are 47 boys and 54 girls. Two school rooms are maintained, in one of which are 40 pupils and in the other 38.

Clark county, Humboldt county and Churchill county are not represented in the home.

It is a matter of common knowledge in the state that the home is conducted in a better manner than ever before in its history and that the children are better dressed and have a better and more healthy appearance than lots of the city children.

JAMES TIMLIN HAS KICKED OVER THE TRACES

A LIFE OF SINGLE BLESSEDNESS HAS NO MORE CHARMS FOR HIM

James A. Timlin, sometimes called Jim, but most of the time saluted as "Tim," who is one of the pioneers of Tonopah and is known to nearly every man, woman, boy and dog in the city, has taken unto himself a wife.

The ceremony occurred Saturday at San Francisco and when the news reached this city there was just cause for surprise. The bride was Mrs. Oliver Clark of Nevada City, California. The newly married couple are expected to return to Tonopah in a few days, and naturally there will be much congratulating.

LIVING FROG FOUND AT DEPTH OF 250 FEET

A day or so after George Docknell came up town with the bone of a prehistoric monster found on his placer lease, the Nemo, a quartz property, not to be outdone by the placer, came into the limelight with a curiosity that few mines in the country have ever produced. It is only an innocent looking frog, of about the ordinary size, but could it talk it would, perhaps, tell some interesting tales of the country here in the early days, for his frogship is several thousand years old, if he is a day. And this particular frog has Rip Van Winkle out on a limb, as far as claiming sleeping honors are concerned. The frog was found in a small pocket of shale, at a depth of 250 feet in the Nemo shaft, last week, by Jack McNamara, a miner. McNamara broke into his frogship's boudoir while preparing to put in a shot. The amphibian was very much alive, and jumped forth from his long resting place as though it had been his usual custom. When he came into the light he blinked his small eyes, stretched his long legs and hopped gaily about. When first discovered, he was of a very light green color, but during the several days that he has been out he has changed, and his skin is taking on a dark, greenish hue. The frog is still alive and may be seen at the Nemo mine. He has been named "Rip" by the miners there.

This is the first time in the history of the camp, and possibly in the state, that a frog has been uncovered in a rock in a mine, and that it was at such a depth leads many to believe that it has been encased in the shale for thousands of years.—Manhattan Mail.
